

Phone (518) 883-8196

Fax (518) 762-5054

Dear BTF-Wholesale Customers

Goderie's Tree Farm/BTF-Wholesale will be hosting the 14th annual "Supplier's Open House" on Saturday, September 18th, 2021. Registration will start at 8AM with coffee and donuts available. From 9:00-11:00 there will be hands on wreath making and decorating instruction in the tree farm building with Amy Pieniazek, Holly Foreman, Bailey Pieniazek, Susan Phillips and Sarah Goderie.

Tom Cortright from Mossy Glen Crafts (Outside of the Box) will be sharing some of his talents in making wreaths and other items using materials other than evergreens, starting at 1:00.

Bring your bugs(in a bag)! We are glad to have Betsy and Brian from Cornell join us again this year . This will be a walking IPM tour of the farm and there may possibly be a recertification credit available this year. DEC has not allowed re-certification classes on Saturdays since 2017, but things have changed this year and Betsy is actively pursuing getting one credit for this meeting. Please bring or mail a check for $15.00 made out to Cornell University if want the credit. The checks will be returned if the credit is not available.

Jake Hart from Fulton County Soil and Water will be joining us in the morning field session to discuss soil Health and nutrition.

BTF-Wholesale will be offering a 10% discount (cash and carry) on all in stock items, picked up and paid for at the show, pre-orders are encouraged.

Dry camping will be available at no cost at the farm. Advanced notification is appreciated. The Johnstown Holiday Inn, (518) 762-4686, will have rooms available for attendees requiring lodging.

If you have trees or brush to buy or sell, this is a great time to make those connections. Let us know in advance and we will add you you to our master list. We do not get involved with prices or quality; we just try to get the right parties together.

Food and beverages will be available from 11:30-1:00 and is included in your registration fee. Please call, fax, or email to pre-register.

Thanks,
Pete, Mike, and Jared Goderie